INTRODUCTION

The Compiler with this volume presents the twentieth of the series and he flatters himself the interest is fully as pronounced as in those of any of the previous issues. The matter in this book is taken wholly from the Rhode Island American.

We are again thankful to the Honorable General Assembly for their public courtesy towards us in this publication. The kind words and favors of our friends are duly appreciated. They give us strength to continue in a work to which we have already given the best years of our life. May our work still so continue as to merit this confidence and good will.

In reading our notes please to bear in mind that if the Marriage or Death date is preceded by the name of the paper, it means the event is to be found in that issue. If not the said Marriage or Death occurred on the date given.

We close by trusting our readers will still find their usual pleasure while perusing our latest volume.

MARRIAGES

THE RHODE ISLAND AMERICAN

The first number of the Rhode Island American was issued Friday, October 21, 1808, by Dunham and Hawkins, William W. Dunham, editor, and David Hawkins, Jr. It was printed at the sign of the American Eagle, opposite the market. Terms three dollars per year, half in advance.

The editorial announcement in the first number stated probably as the reason for establishing the paper that the "pressing necessity of the present period which was to decide whether the politics of Washington shall once more regain their proper influence in the hearts of his countrymen demands correspondent exertion."

October 5th, 1825, a consolidation was effected between the Gazette and the American. The firm of Brown and Carlisle was formed (Hugh H. Brown and Francis T. Carlisle) and conducted the printing on the north side of Market Square. William S. Patten was editor for one year when he was succeeded by Christopher E. Robbins.

In March, 1827, Mr. Carlisle bought out his partner and employed Benjamin F. Hallett as editor. In the July following the Microcosm, a weekly paper, established June 10, 1825, by Walter R. Danforth, was absorbed by the American. Two years later (July, 1829), the Cadet and Statesman also taken in. The title was changed to that of the RHODE ISLAND AMERICAN STATESMAN AND GAZETTE. The Cadet and Statesman was founded as the Literary Cadet and Saturday Evening Bulletin. It was published by Smith and Parmenter (Samuel J. Smith, Jonathan C. Parmenter); Sylvester S. Southworth was editor. It was a weekly until July, 1828, and then semi-weekly until its absorption. The last number was issued Friday, Feb. 1, 1833. Saturday, Feb. 9, it was continued under the title of MICROCOSM AMERICAN AND GAZETTE until its final discontinuance March 29, 1834. Daniel Mowry, 3d, was proprietor of these last consolidation papers. April 6, 1833, he sold out to James S. Hamm & Co. (Joseph Knowles the Co.,) who owned it at its final discontinuance. The paper obtained a high position in the community and had among its writers the best talent of the State. William Goddard was editor when it was at its best.
